

The Learning Centre

Speaking Skills

Idiom Usage Practice (KEY)

1. I better hit the books soon; I have a Sociology test on Monday.

Intended Meaning: I better start studying soon; I have a Sociology test on Monday.

2. I was feeling pretty down in the dumps yesterday, but my mom told me to keep my chin up.

Intended Meaning: I was feeling pretty gloomy/depressed yesterday, but my mom told me to stay positive.

3. Raine was extremely disruptive in class today. However, Mrs. Lee only gave him a slap on the wrist, as usual. She's always been so passive.

Intended Meaning: However, Mrs. Lee only gave him a small punishment, as usual.

4. I want to buy a new car, but I'm scared that I might buy a lemon. Does anyone have any suggestions for reliable car brands?

Intended Meaning: I want to buy a new car, but I'm scared that I might buy one that has a lot of problems.

5. Want to go to Starbucks and grab a cup of Joe?

Intended Meaning:

8. “I don’t trust Kianna,” said Joanie. “She’s been a loose cannon lately.”

Intended Meaning: “She’s been unpredictable/potentially dangerous lately.”

9. There were Kitchen Aid mixers on sale at Canadian Tire, but the store didn’t have any in stock. Therefore, they gave me a raincheck.

Intended Meaning: Therefore, they agreed to give me the sale price at a later date.

10. Don wanted to work hard to get a raise in his job; however, he was running out of steam.

Intended Meaning: Don wanted to work hard to get a raise in his job; however, he was running out of energy/getting tired.